MAIN STAGE 11:45 Purchasing of the future: How we humans in purchasing ensure success in the digital age

 PANEL
DISCUSSION

In an increasingly complex and at the same time very dynamic business world, we in procurement are faced with the even greater challenge of not only delivering sustainable results, but also keeping up with technology at all times and not missing out on any relevant developments. This can be achieved with the right specialists who are responsible for more than just procurement and negotiation - they are key players in the strategic direction of the company and are themselves driving changes such as digitalization, sustainability and agility.

 PANEL
DISCUSSION

16:20 Real sustainability or an empty promise? -
Purchasing between ESG claims and reality

How can companies successfully integrate sustainability and ethical principles into their purchasing strategies? We shed light on the challenges and opportunities arising from the responsible procurement of products and services and show how procurement can act as a driver for a sustainable and fair value chain. We will also present specific measures for evaluating suppliers and promoting transparency in the supply chain.
